Godsaker fra La Maison du Whisky

Edradour 17 ans 2003 Conquête

Skotsk whisky, Single malt whisky

Distilled a year after the distillery was bought by Andrew Symington, this bottling, which has reached optimum maturity, reveals stunning power, concentration and creaminess. An abundant expression of Edradour's inherent fruity, floral and malty character, it showcases a profusion of deeply noble spices as well as impressively intense and well-integrated animal sequences.

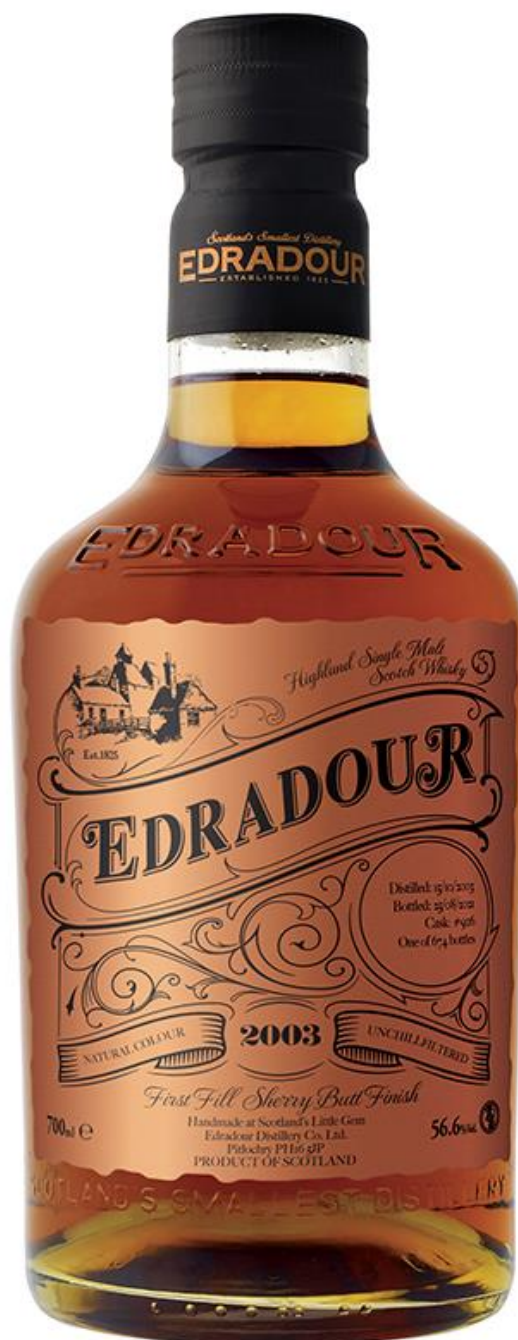

Farge: Orangey copper.

Aroma: Full, powerful. The musky, chocolate, spicy (black pepper, clove), fruity (candied orange, date) and malty first nose stands out for its fullness and concentration. Allowed to breathe, bacon notes underscore the aroma palette's animal character. It then becomes deliciously honeyed (heather, lime blossom), fruity in a different way (rhubarb, apricot, wild strawberry) and delicately caramelized. Aromas of pine resin, iris and green tomato tempura bring a poetic end to the first stage of the tasting.

Smak: Concentrated, rich. The remarkably well-balanced attack is characterized by very sophisticated notes of marmalade, quince jelly and apricot jam. The mid-palate is coated in a fine layer of salted butter caramel and also nobly spiced (saffron, ylang ylang, cardamom). At the end of the palate, grains of malted barley and vanilla pod roughly and creamily envelop the taste buds.

Ettersmak: Long, assertive. Staying very close to the palate, the start of the finish is at once fruity (candied apricot, fresh walnut), heady (iris, carnation, petunia) and powdery (cocoa, cinnamon, ginger). The end of the finish is refreshed with a delicious vanilla ice cream. With lots of volume, the retro-nasal olfaction reveals flavours of beeswax, nutmeg and guava with resounding truth. The empty glass is intensely malty, herbaceous (tobacco), honeyed (lime blossom) and chocolate.

Pris 4275, VMP 14088501, 70 cl, 56,6 %

Ballechin 18 ans 2003 Conquête

Skotsk whisky, Single malt whisky

On both the nose and the palate, this version begins by highlighting notes of an empyreumatic and very oily peat. Then, with great altruism, these fade away to allow a full expression of the floral, chocolatey, honeyed and fruity registers found on a flavour and aroma palette dedicated to finding perfect balance between smoke and the sherry's rancio.

Farge: Deep burnished gold.

Aroma: Subtle yet concentrated. On the first nose, an empyreumatic peat (turpentine, sleet) takes up the entire olfactory space. Next it becomes floral (tulip, reseda), chocolatey and magnificently malty. Allowed to breathe, medicinal fragrances (ointment, mustard poultice) bring lots of momentum to an aroma palette that gives full expression to its deliciously honeyed, vanilla, roasted (coffee) and finely caramelized character.

Smak: Full-bodied, smooth. With lots of intensity, the attack presents an incredibly smooth chocolatey, liquorice and oily peat. On the mid-palate, mineral salts rise to the surface of the palate. Characterized by notes of fish and smoked bacon, the end of the palate is also seeped in vanilla, ashy (soot) and rooty (gentian) notes.

Ettersmak: Long, full. At the start of the finish, the peat and sherry begin a Homeric duel. On one side we find seaweed, oily earthy and intense smoke, and on the other Corinthian raisin, almond, pineapple and candied lemon. Refusing to act as the referee, the retro-nasal olfaction alternates between peaty and vinous sequences. Gradually, smoke rings fill the air, as flavours of vanilla flan nourish the taste buds. The empty glass is at once malty, peaty, rooty (ginseng), animal (leather) and spicy (ginger, clove).

Pris 4275, VMP 14088801, 70 cl, 54 %

Caol Ila 26 ans 1995 Conquête S.V.

Skotsk whisky, Single malt whisky

This iodine-, ash-, lemon- and vanilla-rich version is irrefutably in keeping with the many magnificent bottles that have shaped Caol Ila's history since the distillery was first founded in 1846. Also wonderfully exotic and chocolatey, it invites us to discover a more peaty, oily and animal facet than is usual for a single malt known for its elegance.

Farge: Bright gold.

Aroma: Distinguished, subtle. The particularly exotic first nose (passion fruit, pineapple) boasts impressive freshness. On the second nose, a delicate and oily peat brings lots of smoothness to the aroma palette, which gradually becomes more animal (bacon), ashy and at the same time deliciously vanilla and herbaceous (sage, verbenä). Allowed to breathe, candied citrus fruit (lemon, grapefruit) and white fruit (pear, plum) release a tangy and syrupy juice into the air.

Smak: Rich, unctuous. The vanilla, lemony and vegetal (hay, straw) attack continues on perfectly from the nose. The divinely chocolatey, liquorice and earthy mid-palate is also salty and marine (kelp, shellfish). With huge finesse, the end of the palate develops superbly complex honeyed (acacia, lavender) and floral (honeysuckle, hyacinth) registers.

Ettersmak: Long, creamy. The remarkably fresh start of the finish focuses on a now-oily peat rich in silt, sea spray and mineral salts. The very typically Caol Ila end of the finish is at once ashy, herbaceous, lemony and vanilla. These notes are accompanied by strong spices (pepper, curry, clove) and dark chocolate. The rich retro-nasal olfaction (coffee éclair, chocolate cake) is also characterized by bay leaf and thyme flavours. The empty glass is unmistakably peaty, salty, medicinal (ointment) and malty.

Pris 5088, VMP 14088701, 70 cl, 49,2 %

Artist Collective 5.1 Ben Nevis 6 ans 2014

Skotsk whisky, Single malt whisky

This very typical version of Ben Nevis wonderfully illustrates the unique character of a single malt that is deeply cherished by many enthusiasts. The very nuanced palette of flavours and aromas is sculpted by a classic yet exotic oxidative fruitiness, a very subtle floral character, numerous aromatic plants that shake up the established order, and spices that unite diversity and nobility.

Farge: Deep gold.

Aroma: Rich, unctuous. The oxidative character of this Ben Nevis is like that of a Jura Vin Jaune aged for some 20 years. Aromas of walnut and very ripe white grape pair harmoniously with fragrances of curry, cinnamon and saffron. The increasingly rich aroma palette then becomes vanilla, almost chocolatey, and above all magnificently floral (lime blossom, lily, rosé poivrée). Exotic fruits (roasted pineapple, flambéed banana) arrive in a climax.

Smak: Lively, full-bodied. On the attack, beeswax and acacia honey softly envelop the taste buds, as powdered spices (pepper, star anise, clove) land on the tongue. On the mid-palate, stewed fruits (apple, Mirabelle plum) and candied citrus fruit (lemon, orange) appear alongside an array of aromatic plants (chervil, sage, savory). The end of the palate is characterized by notes of frangipane and raisin cake.

Ettersmak: Long, smooth. A subtle combination of damp earth, cinnamon and grated ginger, the start of the finish is also refreshingly herbaceous (coriander, dill), resinous and sappy (pine). As the finish lingers, walnut pairs deliciously with an invigorating bitterness. On the retro-nasal olfaction, cocoa powder, plantain banana, turmeric and acacia honey beautifully punctuate the tasting. The empty glass is vanilla, camphoric and medicinal (tiger balm).

Pris 1590, VMP 14087701, 70 cl, 57,1 %

Artist Collective 5.3 Caol Ila 10 ans 2010

Skotsk whisky, Single malt whisky

Following in the footsteps of the outstanding Caol Ila 2012 found in our 2021 Creation Catalogue French Connections, this version showcase the wonderful complexity afforded by the combination of peated malted barley and sherry wine. Further highlighting this complicity, the flavour and aroma palette energetically reveals stunning fruity, chocolate, malty, iodine, smoky, peaty, spicy and floral sequences.

Farge: Orangey copper.

Aroma: Full-bodied, unctuous. On the first nose, notes of apricot, cherries in brandy, white peach and raisin drive aromas of malted barley, iodine, smoke and dried peat into the background. Soon, however, more balance arrives. Allowed to breathe, pepper, salted butter caramel, chocolate, orange and heady florals (hyacinth, peony) bring the aroma palette lots of sophistication.

Smak: Clear, precise. On the attack, now-rooty peat (gentian), ash and camphor appear alongside milk chocolate, heather honey, quince jelly and apricot coulis. The chocolate gradually becomes dark (100% cocoa). The mid-palate are equipped with a superb mouth-watering bitterness, allowing glimpses of a lemony and fruity (pear) spirit. At the end of the palate, sublime flavours of honeysuckle and gillyflower spread through the air.

Ettersmak: Long, very serene. The slightly meaty start of the finish (bacon, leather) is above all covered in a fine layer of ash. Chimney hearth is not far away. A certain minerality brings to mind the warmth of a firebrick. On the retro-nasal olfaction, exotic fruits (mango, guava) refresh the resinous (pine, Vosges cough sweets), earthy and balsamic (sherry vinegar) finish. The empty glass is camphoric, spicy (star anise), liquorice and herbaceous (peated malted barley).

Pris 1875, VMP 14087201, 70 cl, 48 %

Artist Collective 5.6 Auchentoshan 13 ans 2007

Skotsk whisky, Single malt whisky

When tasting this version distilled in 2007 for the first time, one thing is clear: sherry finishing could not be better suited to this iconic Lowland single malt. Even better, its very nuanced and wonderfully fruity palette of flavours and aromas is enriched with generous and spicy notes as well as stunning autumn shades that further bring out its deeply malty character.

Farge: Mahogany

Aroma: Refined, smooth. Revealing a beautiful fruity (apricot, orange, mandarin), slightly burnt and waxy rancio, the first nose develops intense notes of black fruits (bramble, blackcurrant, blueberry, cherry). Allowed to breathe, an underlying malted barley appears in the background of the aroma palette. Gradually, superb notes of toffee, sweet pastry (Paris-Brest) and dried fruit (fig, date) seize the foreground.

Smak: Lively yet well-balanced. A perfect summary of the aroma palette, the attack is characterized by notes of apricot, salted butter caramel, ground malted barley and precious wood. On the mid-palate, flavours of prune, grilled walnut, dark chocolate, liquorice and dried leaves paint wonderful autumnal tones. The further enhance the nutty aftertaste (sweet chestnut, chestnut).

Ettersmak: Long, mellow. The rich start of the finish invites us to enjoy a delicious chocolate cake. Next, sweet spices (cinnamon, ginger) provide a slender and powdery transition to a finish characterized by stunning woody notes (sweet chestnut tree, oak, walnut tree). The retro-nasal olfaction reveals walnut cake and the empty glass releases fragrances of apricot and bitter orange.

Artist #11 Jura 1991 Over 30 yo

Skotsk whisky, Single malt whisky

For the first time ever, Jura joins La Maison du Whisky's prestigious Artist range—and what an entrance it has made! The rich, smooth and incredibly elegant palette of constantly changing aromas and flavours continually reveals new tastes and fragrances. The oxidative fruit, gentle peat, noble spices and beautiful herbaceous notes perfectly embody the style of this island single malt.

Farge: Bright gold.

Aroma: Complex, deep. Very ripe pineapple and pear, acacia honey, straw and a very light and delicate peat bring the first nose lots of nobility. Allowed to breathe, camphor, walnut and curry evoke a stunning Château-Chalon wine. With time, subtle notes of meat (bresaola, serrano), vanilla and candied citrus fruit (lemon, grapefruit) lead the nose's rich and concentrated development. Together, the aromas show lots of breadth.

Smak: Lively yet generous. On the attack, a lovely lemon acidity appears alongside bourbon vanilla. Next, fresh fruits (Mirabelle plum, pineapple, greengage plum, William's pear) release their deliciously sweet juices onto the taste buds. On the mid-palate, spearmint, chlorophyll and noble spices (cardamom, nutmeg, spearmint) further enhance the chocolatey and roasted (coffee) flavour palette. The end of the palate is characterized by notes of privet, holly and clover.

Ettersmak: Long, deep. The beautifully liquorice start of the finish reveals a host of aromatic plants (camomile, verbena, bay leaf) as well as heady florals (broom, mimosa). Over time, malted barley takes control and then stays centre-stage. The retro-nasal olfaction adds dark chocolate, lime blossom and broad bean. The empty glass reveals dried peat, tobacco and green liquorice.

Artist #11 Laphroaig 2001 Over 20 yo

Skotsk whisky, Single malt whisky

Right from the first nose, this Laphroaig sets the tone for the tasting, revealing an absolutely remarkable complexity and finesse. Its closely linked peaty, fruity, floral and chocolatey notes rival each other in intensity, bringing lots of fluidity and movement to a stunningly fresh palette of flavours and aromas. Notes of hydrocarbon and honey also criss-cross through the tasting.

Farge: Pale gold

Aroma: Concentrated, complex. One after the other, the first nose reveals passion fruit, ash, sleet, hydrocarbon (fuel oil), milky peat, almond, lemon, pear, chilli (Cayenne pepper), iodine and salt. Allowed to breathe, white florals pierce through tarmac. The aroma palette then becomes magnificently herbaceous (white mint), peppery and even more floral (white lilac, lily of the valley).

Smak: Lively yet creamy. Like the first nose, the attack wavers between passion fruit, peat and lime. In passing, it adds a sprinkling of vanilla pod and chocolate chip. The absolutely delicious mid-palate sees peat envelop the entire palate in mentholated, spicy (clove, star anise) and camphoric flavours. The particularly salty end of the palate is characterized by notes of shellfish, sea spray, fleur de sel and liquorice stick.

Ettersmak: Long, concentrated. At the start of the finish, lavender honey, zan liquorice sweets, oily peat, soot, agave, tarmac, smoked fish, eucalyptus, incense, candied lemon, coconut milk and fresh walnut bring us back to the nose and palate. The retro-nasal olfaction creates the pleasant sensation of smoking a delicately herbaceous and spicy Havana cigar. In unison, the empty glass reveals passion fruit, lime, oily peat and sleet.

Artist #11 Ben Nevis 2010 aged 10 years

Skotsk whisky, Single malt whisky

This magnificent Ben Nevis can be broken down into three separate stages. First, the nose, whose milky, malty and fruity character overflows with serenity. Then the palate, whose intense exoticism and mentholated freshness wonderfully outlines its extroverted temperament. And finally the finish, which perfectly expresses the incredible originality and persuasiveness of a flavour and aroma palette that naturally conjugates the verb “to love”.

Farage: Pale gold.

Aroma: Fresh, unctuous. The first nose is characterized by beautiful milky notes (coconut, almond), green walnut, candied lemon and juicy pear, and is also wonderfully vanilla. Allowed to breathe, aromas of white mint, lily of the valley and iris highlight the heady nature of the aroma palette, which lingers on notes of toffee, grilled malted barley and lucerne.

Smak: Lively, stately. Far more extroverted than implied by the nose, the attack is exotic (passion fruit, kiwi, lychee), delicately chocolatey and liquoricey. On the mid-palate, flavours of barley sugar and lavender honey appear alongside frangipane and dried fruit (prune, date, fig). The mentholated and spicy (saffron, clove) end of the palate gradually becomes herbaceous (reed, rush).

Ettersmak: Long, invigorating. Green tomato tempura, coriander, chervil and green apple provide a deeply persuasive showcase of the springlike nature of the start of the finish. Superb notes of green tea and jasmine tea then arrive to further reinforce this sensation of freshness. The retro-nasal olfaction places one fruit centre stage: apple. The empty glass is spicy (ginger, cinnamon), milky and malty.

Artist #11 Clynelish 1995 Over 25 yo

Skotsk whisky, Single malt whisky

An especially harmonious duel between malted barley and sherry is the guiding theme in this tasting stamped with the seal of elegance. It is best to simply let oneself be carried away by the whims of this outstanding Clynelish's palette of aromas and flavours that unites classicism and originality together under one flag. The many joys of the tasting include the multi-dimensional fruit, the very subtle floral dimension and superb notes of polish.

Farge: Mahogany

Aroma: Rich, concentrated. On the first nose, aromas of emery cloth, blood orange, chocolate, caramel, apricot, crème brûlée, grilled walnut and rhubarb tart reveal the aroma palette's extreme complexity and depth. These are accompanied by an omnipresent salinity. Allowed to breathe, fig, date, exotic fruits (mango, guava), medicinal (iodine tincture) and very finely woody notes (sandalwood, bramble bush) appear alongside black fruits (blackcurrants, blueberry). Outstanding!

Smak: At once lively and mellow. On the attack, malted barley skilfully plays the lead role. Red fruits (strawberry, raspberry) take the place of the black fruits. The mid-palate is creamy (salted butter caramel) and slightly tannic (raisin, date, dark chocolate). At the end of the palate, lime blossom and lavender honeys, heady florals (carnation, hyacinth, rose) and very ripe fruits (banana, quince, orange, melon) bring lots of the class to the flavour palette.

Ettersmak: Long, silky. At the start of the finish, malted barley and sherry launch into a Homeric duel. These two protagonists are brought together by a collision of porridge and Liège coffee flavours. The fleshy finish wavers between notes of coconut milk, marmalade, reseda, cardamom and lime blossom. For its part, the retro-nasal olfaction clearly takes us into malted territory. The empty glass focuses on a stunning rancio (cherries in brandy), camphor and precious wood.

Compass Box Artist #11 Pentalogy Confidence

Skotsk whisky, Blended whisky

Produced from one Lowland single grain, one Northern Highland single malt, two Speyside single malts and one blended malt named The Circle, Confidence reveals a palette of flavours and aromas dominated by the single malts. This allows it, throughout the tasting, to confidently reveal superb fruity, floral, herbaceous and honeyed notes.

Farge: Bright gold.

Aroma: Fresh and rich. The particularly malty first nose are also characterized by notes of candied fruit (lemon, pear, pineapple). Allowed to breathe, enveloping floral aromas (honeysuckle, carnation) appear alongside sweet spices (cinnamon, nutmeg). Notes of beeswax, toffee and lavender honey then bring lots of density to the aroma palette.

Smak: Clean, lively. The profoundly malty, herbaceous (cut hay), vanilla and fruity (roasted apple) attack has remarkable presence. As it lingers, the mid-palate reveals spice bread and flavours of Kouign-amann Breton pastry. The rustic (ploughed land, compost) and vegetal (tobacco, tea) end of the palate is also remarkably sweet (aniseed bonbons, Calisson d'Aix).

Ettersmak: Long, smooth. The incredibly fresh start of the finish reveals red fruits (strawberry, redcurrant, raspberry), black fruits (blackcurrant, bramble) and nuts (chestnut, hazelnut). The end of the finish are characterized by notes of vanilla and spice bread. On the retro-nasal olfaction, malted barley grains rise to the surface of the flavour palette. The empty glass confirms this malty evolution, adding aromas of leather, liquorice and camphor.

Compass Box Artist #11 Pentalogy Fortitude

Skotsk whisky, Blended whisky

Produced from a Lowland single grain, a Speyside single malt, a Highland blended malt and a blended malt dubbed "No Name", Fortitude proudly proclaims its unmistakable parallels with an Islay single malt. Intensely smoky, its palette of flavours and aromas reveals a peat with multiple faces that nonetheless remains dressed from head to toe in sheer elegance.

Farge: Bright gold.

Aroma: Refined, elegant. On the first nose, smoke and cut hay, candied lemon and vanilla all appear together in complete harmony. Allowed to breathe, the smoke's acidity pierces the surface of the aroma palette. Gradually, mustard seed, musk and new candied fruits (Mirabelle plum, pear) accompany a rich, oily peat with an incredibly delicate expression. Later, peat definitively gains the upper hand.

Smak: Rich, taut. On the attack, an ashy, mentholated, milky, lush and lemony peat takes centre stage, hollowing out a deep groove in search of sea spray, salt and seaweed. On the mid-palate, almond milk and lemon juice refresh the palate. The superbly serene end of the palate wavers between hydrocarbon (fuel), acacia honey, liquorice and fennel.

Ettersmak: Long, well-balanced. At the start of the finish, the peat are nourished by empyreumatic notes (macadamia, sleet, petrol) and yet remains supremely elegant. Gentian, bay leaf and sage flavours highlight the vegetal development. The very green and slightly aniseedy retro-nasal olfaction is an ode to malted barley and green malt. Outstanding! At the same time, exotic fruits (pineapple, kaffir lime) release a sweet and tangy juice. A block of drying peat rises from the empty glass as the sun reaches its zenith.

Compass Box Artist #11 Pentalogy Generosity

Skotsk whisky, Blended grainwhisky

Produced from two Lowland single grains, on the nose, Generosity reveals enthralling medicinal, fruity, herbaceous, cereal and spicy notes. Continuing on seamlessly and with the same generosity and fervour, the flavour palette reveals wonderfully delicate honeyed, milky, creamy, exotic and chocolatey flavours.

Farge: Bright gold.

Aroma: Fresh and heady. On the first nose, medicinal (band aid), vegetal (green grass), vanilla and peppery notes appear alongside fresh fruits (pear, white peach). Allowed to breathe, aromatic plants (sage, verbena, rosemary) bring lots of energy and freshness to the aroma palette. Gradually, aromas of corn and wheat proudly proclaim their resemblance with bourbon whiskey. Finally, nutmeg fills the air.

Smak: Elegant, distinguished. The rich and lively attack is a very subtle combination of vanilla, cinnamon, cut hay and William's pear. On the mid-palate, acacia honey and chestnut cream softly envelop the taste buds. The end of the palate reveals noble spices (cardamom, clove), as well as milky (coconut) and lemony notes. Note that the flavour palette has become increasingly radiant and bright.

Ettersmak: Long, soft. In unison with the nose and palate, the start of the finish is vanilla, lush, fruity and spicy. With time, notes of dark chocolate, broad bean and courgette tempura feed an incredibly youthful finish. On the retro-nasal olfaction, exotic fruits (pineapple, banana, lychee) draw out the tasting. The empty glass is powdery (rice), slightly spicy (nutmeg), vanilla and milky (yoghurt).

Compass Box Artist #11 Pentalogy Wisdom

Skotsk whisky, Blended whisky

Produced primarily from a Highland blended malt, Wisdom also includes two vintages from the same Lowland single grain and a small percentage of blended scotch. Glowing with floral and herbaceous freshness, deliciously honeyed, fruity and gently spiced, this version also reveals a palette of aromas and flavours that combines both youthful spirit and... wisdom.

Farge: Coppery

Aroma: Full-bodied, refined. On the first nose, dried apricot, lime blossom honey, praline, toffee and orange zest contrast with dark chocolate, peppermint and beeswax. Allowed to breathe, the aroma palette becomes more medicinal (ointment), floral (lavender, violet, iris) and even more chocolatey. Grilled walnut, moss and dried leaves (bay leaf) highlight not only the maturity of the expression but also its remarkable complexity.

Smak: Lively yet creamy. On the attack, toffee, quince jelly, chestnut liqueur and citrus fruit (orange, mandarin) coat the taste buds in their tangy and syrupy tones. Magnificent! The spicy (cinnamon, ginger) and liquorice mid-palate releases wonderfully noble woody flavours (sandalwood, spruce). At the end of the palate, cocoa powder spreads across the edges of the mouth.

Ettersmak: Long, rich. The incredibly smooth finish is inseparable from the end of the palate. Red fruits (raspberry, strawberry), rosemary, pistachio and verbena come together in complete harmony. On the retro-nasal olfaction, notes of orange blossom, chervil and toffee further enhance the flavour palette. The remarkably intense empty glass is powdery (cocoa), floral (hyacinth), spicy (cinnamon) and praline.

Compass Box Artist #11 Pentalogy Wonder

Skotsk whisky, Blended maltwhisky

Produced from one Northern Highland single malt (66%) and one island single malt (34%), Wonder reveals truly incredible maturity and complexity. With lots of finesse and yet still very dense, the aroma and flavour palette is guided by an altruistic peat that is in turns rooty, saline, iodine, earthy and empyreumatic.

Farge: Orangey copper.

Aroma: Rich, balanced. A combination of candied lemon, rooty peat and candied fruits (orange, apricot), the first nose boasts intense depth. The extremely salty and iodine aroma palette becomes increasingly floral (lavender, lilac) and superbly malty. Peat continues to soar above the palette of aromas, which is draw out by a medicinal (ointment), hot (paprika) and exotic (mango, guava) register.

Smak: Lively, precise. The energetic attack is mineral (schist), tarry, oily, rooty (gentian) and slightly earthy. On the mid-palate, precious wood, mocha, candied apricot and malted barley flavours rival each other in intensity. At the end of the palate, a fine layer of caramel and ripe mango delicately envelop the taste buds. With remarkable mentholated freshness, the flavour palette seems to last forever.

Ettersmak: Long, silky. The wonderfully soft-textured start of the finish is deeply malty. Next, notes of dill, cardamom and liquorice stick bring lots of nobility to a finish that has retained a few traces of peat. Very slender, it gradually reveals flavours of spice bread, raisin cake and toast. On the retro-nasal olfaction, clove, curry, chestnut and lichen beautifully punctuate the tasting. The empyreumatic empty glass are characterized by notes of burnt wood and incense.

Amrut Neidhal Single Malt of India

Indisk whisky, Single malt whisky

Amrut has now conceived and launched a new umbrella brand - 'Single Malts of India' to showcase some of the hidden gem malts of India. The first chapter of this release, titled the Neidhal will be a limited release of 12,000 bottles across the world, with 1200 bottles being allocated for India. Ancient Tamil texts, dating back to the Sangam period (300 BC – 300 AD), classify mother earth into five regions called Tinas, each being associated with its own distinct literary style, grammar, mood, subtle as well as overt form of romance, culture and even cuisine. 'Neidhal', according to this classification comprises all Oceans and neighboring regions or in short Coastal Plains and the way of living one associates with them. Neidhal is an off road adventure embarked by Amrut and for the first time in India, we have decided to show case some of the hidden gems. We have polished this gem, by tweaking few things on maturation, to showcase its potential.

NEIDHAL is a single malt eponymously sourced from a Neidhal or coastal region and exhibits traits that uniquely spring from the locale.

Farge: Mahogany

Murray McDavid Single Grain Loch Lomond 22yo

Skotsk whisky, Single grain whisky

Mange har smakt MMD sine tappinger fra 2015 og 2017, modnet 1st fill fat med finish i spesielt utvalgte små bourbonfat fra Koval Distillery. Nå, litt over to år senere, mener MMD at det kommer et forbedret uttrykk for denne grain whiskyen. Med stor spenning, presenterer MMD Whisky Creations Team en unikt modnet grain-whisky. Etter tjue år i eks-bourbon-fat, ble det overført til et ganske uvanlig fat, en nylig tømt eks-Armagnac barrique. Resultatet er en grain-whisky med en vri, som neppe vil bli funnet andre steder.

Farge: Mahogny

Aroma: Fennikel, eple & rabarbra kake, eikemøbler

Smak: Banoffe pie, småkaker, mandel

Ettersmak: Myntete, søte krydder, havrekake

Kingsbarns Balcomie

Skotsk whisky, Single malt whisky

Destillert med bygg fra lokalområdet i Fife, modnet i ex-Oloroso sherryfat av amerikansk eik

Farge: Lys mahogny

Aroma: Sitrus, sultanas, fruktbrød med kanelglasur, mørk sjokolade og sommerbær.

Smak: Hermetisert ananas, appelsinskall, kakekrydder, tørket aprikos og hint av stekt hasselnøtt.

Wemyss Greenkeepers Gloves – Invergordon 1988 31 yo

Skotsk whisky, Single grain whisky

Destillert på Invergordon i 1988. Modnet i en refill sherry butt til tapping i 2019. Fatet ga 443 fl

Farge: Rennende honning

Aroma: Åpningsaromaen er grønn, frisk og blomstret med kuttet gress, høy, geraniumblomster, en generell friskhet og hint av sitrus. Dypere toner av nytt lær, gammelt tømmer og hint av sandeltre fremkaller en golfbanes greenkeeper-verktøy.

Smak: Knasende grønt eple, limejuice og tertebær som fører til rikere toner av toffeesaus og karamell. Sødmen er honning med mild krydderkompleksitet av kanelsukker og muskat.

Ettersmak: Søtheten blir til en balanserende, grønn kvistlignende kvae som henger i noen hyggelige sekunder.

På lager igjen

Denne hadde vi bommet totalt på hvor mange som ville ha, så første levering fikk veldig kort tid i hyllene på lageret. Nå har vi fått påfyll, som kanskje holder noen uker?

Cognac Grosperin Orange d'Or Orange Liquor Minimum 3 yo

Likør, Appelsinlikør

Å lage denne appelsinlikøren er en kompleks prosess. En blanding av sprit, inkludert cognac, naturlig bitter appelsinensens og sukker, danner basen som deretter tilsettes veldig gammel Armagnacs (årgang 1979 for denne første utgivelsen), veldig gammel fransk brandy og cognac. Den blir så modnet i minst tre år på gamle amerikanske Bourbon-tønner. På slutten av denne perioden blir den helt over i en liten tank hvor den blir maserert med burgunder solbærknopper for å ta denne unike likøren til et nytt nivå av eleganse. Flaskene får deretter hvile i flere måneder før de selges.

Farge: Naturlig ravfarge

Aroma: På nesen, en harmonisk fusjon av appelsin med gammel Cognac, Armagnac og Brandy. Solbærknoppene gir en særegen eleganse

Smak: Angrepet på ganen er mykt, søtt og komplekst uten det karakteristiske stikket av likører laget av nøytral alkohol.

Ettersmak: Finishen er gourmand med umiskjennelige myke treaktige toner. En bordlikør laget etter tradisjonen med å lage likør fra 1800-tallet.

Nettbutikk full i julegaver

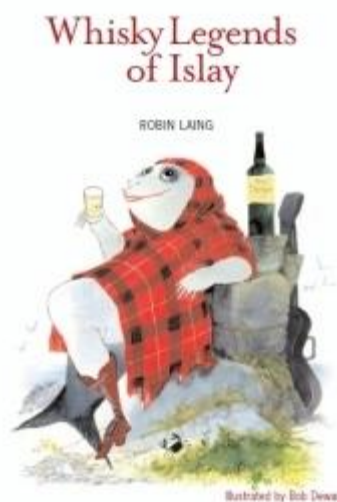

Omsider har vi fått oss nettbutikk, <https://butikk.daracha.no>. Det er nok dårlig med whisky du kan handle i den, men glassene til å nyte de edle dråpene fra finner du der. Om ikke du fikk det som stod på ønskelisten til jul, så er det ennå noen greier igjen i butikken.

Robin Laing og Darach i nettbutikken

Nå finner du Robin Laing sine bøker og CD-er i nettbutikken, og vi har nylig inngått avtale med Darach i Inverness om å forhandle deres varer, laget av fatstaver i Norge. Foreløpig er det litt bestillingstid på disse, men noen av de har vi på lager.
